PROCEEDINGS UNDER PACKERS AND STOCKYARDS ACT

Docket No. 9.—In re American National Livestock Association et al. v. Market agencies operating at the Portland Union Stockyards, North Portland, Oreg. Order of inquiry issued May 29, 1924. Hearing held July 22, 1924. Examiners' report filed November 10, 1924. Respondents' exceptions filed December 15, 1924. Case dismissed without prejudice by order of the Acting Secretary, January 25, 1930.

Docket No. 83.—In re Secretary of Agriculture v. Barefoot Live Stock Commission Co. and other market agencies operating at the Oklahoma National Stockyards, Oklahoma City, Okla. Order issued February 29, 1924. Hearing held April 8, 1924. Examiners' findings filed July 21, 1924, and respondents' exceptions on October 3, 1924. Case dismissed without prejudice by order of the Acting Secretary on January 25, 1930.

Docket No. 132.—In re Secretary of Agriculture v. Alexander Conover & Martin, and other market agencies operating at the National Stock Yards, Ill. Order issued October 10, 1924. Hearing held March 24, 1925. Case dismissed without prejudice by order of the Acting Secretary on January 25, 1930.

Docket No. 151.—In re Secretary of Agriculture v. Brown-Mattingly et al., Sioux City Stock Yards, Sioux City, Iowa. Order suspending tariff and ordering investigation of rates issued March 24, 1926. On May 10, 1926, order issued consolidating dockets 147 and 151. On June 17, 1926, date of hearing postponed until further notice. Case dismissed without prejudice by order of the Acting Secretary on January 25, 1930.

Dockets Nos. 9, 83, 132, 147, and 151, named above, involved the reasonableness of rates and charges for buying and selling livestock on commission by market agencies at the stockyards located at North Portland, Oreg., Oklahoma City, Okla., National Stock Yards, Ill., and Sioux City, Iowa. However, before a decision was reached in any of them, the so-called Omaha commission rate case, docket No. 143, in which an order had been issued, was contested in the courts, finally being taken to the Supreme Court by the respondents, after a decision favorable to the Government had been rendered by a statutory court of three judges. A decision in this case, which is anticipated in the near future, will settle the legal principles involved and will govern the procedure to be followed in the future with respect to commission rate cases. As the material in these old dockets was so out of date that conclusive findings could not have been made without further hearings, the cases were dismissed without prejudice.

Docket No. 299.—In re Frank M. Huffaker, jr., and other firms at the Chicago Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill. Notice of inquiry issued October 7, 1929, alleging that respondents had engaged in and used certain unfair and unjustly discriminatory practices and devices in connection with the handling of livestock in commerce, in that they had combined, conspired, and agreed to have no business relations at the above-mentioned stockyards with Joseph C. Coates. A hearing was held in this case on October 24, 1929, and an oral argument before the Acting Secretary on November 30, 1929. Upon a careful consideration of all the evidence produced, the Acting Secretary found and concluded that the allegations were not sustained; therefore, on January 23, 1930, the case was dismissed without prejudice.

Docket No. 300.—In re Ralston Bros. Livestock Commission Co., Denver, Colo. Notice of inquiry issued October 26, 1929, alleging insolvency. On January 3, 1930, the respondent admitted the truth of the matters and things alleged in the inquiry and waived a hearing thereon. On January 20, 1930, respondent was suspended from registration for six months as a market agency, with leave, however, during said period, to apply for revocation of this suspension upon a showing satisfactory to the Secretary of Agriculture that he is then solvent.
